

6 September 1798 Bourbon County, Kentucky

In the Name of God Amen. I David Trimble of Bourbon County and state of Kentucky, being in perfect health & sound of judgment and mind and memory and taking into consideration the mortality of man that it is ordained for all men once to die, I do make appoint and ratify this to be my last will and Testament and do hereby disannul and make void all other wills and testaments or testimonies and legaseas made by me heretofore.

That is to say, I first commit my soul to God who gave it my body to be entered in a decent manner at the discretion of my executors hereafter mentioned nothing doubting but I shall receive the same at the last day on the day of judgment when Christ shall call the slumbering to life, and as touching [unreadable]. I design and in the following manner:

First, I desire my just debts to be paid out of my estate, first I Give and bequeath to my son George Trimble the plantation or tract of land whereon I now live containing one hundred and two acres to him his heirs executors administrators or assigns forever, only George Trimble shall pay unto my daughter Nancy King her just sum of thirty five pounds good and lawful money of the aforesaid state as her share out of said tract of one hundred and two acres, to be for her use and at her disposal forever.

And I give and bequeath to my son Isaac Trimble, son David my sorrel mare to them their heirs forever.

Also I give and bequeath to each of my Children, to wit, James, John, and Nancy King to the heirs of James Elliott Deceased, Thomas, David, William, George, John McKinney, Isaac and Forqus Grayham, the just and full sum of six shillings good and lawful money of Kentucky to them theirs heirs forever.

Also concerning all the money that may be left of mine at my death if any there be, all to be equally divided between my daughter Nancy King and my son William and George Trimble, John McKinney, Isaac Trimble and also to Fargus Graham to be theirs and at their disposal forever.

Furthermore I give and bequeath to my three daughters to wit, Nancy King, Polly McKinney and Betsy Graham, my bed and bedclothing to be divided as follows to wit, Nancy to have all the furniture, that is to say, a pair of double blankets, a single blanket, two sheets, a bolster and pillow, to my daughter Polly McKinney my big rug, to my daughter Betsy Graham my bed and pewter tankered and to be theirs and theirs assigns forever.

After the will management of all my affairs and due performance this my last will and testament, I do hereby ordain constitute and appoint James Denneson and James Fraysor to be my whole and sole Executors in law to have this my last will and testament well and truly Executed. In Witness of this my last will and testimony I hereunto see my seal this sixth day of September one thousand seven hundred and ninety eight.

Acknowledged by the said David Trimble as his last will and Testament who at the time of signing here of appeared to us to be of sound mind and perfect memory. Done in our presence and in the presence of each other. David Trimble.
