At left, this 1911 photograph shows Rosa and Columbus Weddle and their son, 1-year-old Cecil. Rosa was about 16 years old when the picture was taken.
