List of Taxables for 1762 in Granville County, NC

by Ransom McBride, 1113 Seabrook Ave., Cary, NC 27511

(Note: with special assistance of Jo Anna B. McDaniel, 3629 Brinkley Dr., Raleigh, NC 27604 - a former resident and native of Granville Co., NC)

PART I

INTRODUCTION. By 1760, colonial Granville County had lost the western half of its confines to newly created Orange County, but it still held on to the area that included today's counties of Franklin, Granville, Warren and Vance. This situation would last until 1764, when over half of its area would be taken from Bute County, a political entity that would disappear in 1779 when it was divided into the counties Franklin and Warren. For Granville County the years around 1762 saw more than local changes in its boundaries. The French and Indian War was ongoing from 1755 - 1763, and hostile Indian depredations urged on...
