Directions: From Leesville, take US Hwy. 171 South to New Llano. Turn right (West) at stop light onto LA Hwy. 1211 and go approximately 9.0 miles on paved road, and continue another 1.2 miles on unimproved road. At this point, road to the left is paved and dirt road continues straight. Turn left onto Cottonwood Road (East) and go 1.0 miles to the Lillie Pentecostal Church on the left. About .2 miles beyond the church, turn left (at sign) and Miller Cemetery is located at the end of this lane. A driveway enters the property from the front gate and ends in the center of the cemetery. A roofed shed is on the left side where funeral services or meetings can be held. A sign on the front fence reads:

"Through this gate our relatives & friends have been lain. God be with us until we meet them again. Then with Christ we shall reign."

The oldest burials are in the rear of the cemetery. There are 73 small round white concrete markers with no inscription located at each unmarked burial in the older section. Two of the unmarked burials have been identified by Katie Daffin of Evans, LA. The oldest marked tombstone was 1887 for W. R. Foshee. Inscriptions were recorded from just inside the front double gate in sections by Jane P. McManus on 12 May 1995, and updated 23 May 1996. Submitted August 9, 2000.
