INTRODUCTION

Jacob ADERHOLDT was born Jul 08, 1775, in York Town (present city of York), York County, Pennsylvania. He was christened on Jul 16, 1775 in Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church, in York Town. The typed transcription of the church record reads as follows: "1775 Jacob Oberholt of Frederick and Jeanette, born July 8, 1775, baptized July 16, 1775." In that his parents could not speak English at this point, the written record may actually read this way, or it may have just been mis-read by the person typing the transcription. In either case, this is the actual record of Jacob ADERHOLDT's birth and christening. Later, in the same transcribed list, the record of the fourth child of Frederick William ADERHOLD and Mary Elizabeth (Maria Elisabeth Johannette - in German) ISHEIM-ADERHOLD, reads as follows: "John William Aderholtz of Frederick and wife, born July 26, 1778, baptized August 2, 1778." In that there is no further record of John William, it is assumed that he died as an infant/child.

The birth of Jacob is the first record available, at the present, of the arrival of Frederick William ADERHOLD, in America. His older brothers John Conrad and John George used the original German spelling of the family surname "ADERHOLD," for the rest of their lives, but some of their descendants were recorded by others and retained names such as "ADDERHOLDT" and "ADERHOLT." Jacob used the name spelling "ADERHOLDT," as the original name would sound when spoken by a German, and heard by the English/American ear, but like his brother's descendants, many today use other variations.

When the family moved from York Town, Pennsylvania to Lincoln County, North Carolina, in late 1879 or early 1880, Jacob was about four and a half years old. Frederick William sold his last property in York Town on Oct 19, 1779 and purchased his first property in Lincoln County on Apr 22, 1780.

Jacob grew up and remained the rest of his life in the same vicinity of Lincoln County (and the part that was to become Gaston County in 1846; the lower 1/3 of old Lincoln), where his family settled. It seems reasonable to assume that being the daughter of a teacher in Germany, their mother Mary Elizabeth assured that all three of her sons received a reasonably good basic education.

In 1789 - 1790, when Jacob was about fourteen years old, his oldest brother John Conrad married and moved south-west about ninety miles, to the Pendleton District in South Carolina (near the modern town of Anderson, Anderson Co, SC). John George, two years older than Jacob, remained in Lincoln County and married Margareth HASSELBURGER in ca 1796.

When he was about twenty three years old, in ca 1798, Jacob married Sarah(?) Elizabeth HEAVNER, the nineteen year old daughter of Abraham HEAVNER, Sr.. During the period 1800 - 1822, Jacob and Elizabeth had a total of twelve children.

Frederick William ADERHOLD died in late 1807 and his will was probated in early 1808. In the will, Frederick William states:

" - I give and bequeath to my son Jacob the Plantation where I now live also a tract of twenty six acres joyning the same, in his own possetion after the desease of his mother, provided he gives his mother as much Flower mead (meat) milk and butter also furnish her with washing and fier wood dayly and every day as long (as) she lives. Provided further that the same Jacob is to pay three hundred Dollars Due in October 1807 that is he Repaeth a debt of a hundred and fourteen Dollars & forty eight cents also your own debt of seventy one Dollars and the remainder you must make it oud (out) of your own Estate."

He also provided that the three brothers would share equally in any "remainder or remainders" of his estate after the death of "the widow," and that his clothes be divided between the two brothers John George and Jacob, and that " - I likewise constedute make and ordain my son Jacob Aderhold and my Dearly beloved Friend Mical Rudeseal Executors of my Last Will and Testament - -."

In the will, John George inherited his father's " - plantation on the Ratlen Shoal of the South Cataba it being under four Diferent Pattons in his own Possestion after the Desease of his Mother Provided he pays Twenty five Dollers yearly to his Mother -." On Christmas Day, Dec 25, 1811, John George sold the land at "Ratlen Shoal," and the remainder of his property in Lincoln County, to Lawson HENDERSON. In that, according to the terms of his father's will, he could not take legal possession of the "Ratlen Shoal" land until his mother's death, Mary Elizabeth's death must have occurred ca 1810 - 1811.

John George was a skilled mill wright and farmer. He knew how to chose a proper stream site, build dams and construct grist mills, as did his brother Jacob. Both, and possibly John Conrad also, had acquired their farming and mill wright skills under their father and others while working the lands and properties owned by their father in Lincoln Co, NC. Both John George and his younger brother Jacob bought their own land, farmed and built and operated grist mills there, Jacob choosing to remain and prosper in Lincoln and later Gaston County (that part of Lincoln County that was to become Gaston County in 1846). Grist mill operations have been continued in several lines of the families to the present day.

Probably influenced by his brother John Conrad's move to Franklin County, Georgia in 1810, John George seems to have moved his family from Lincoln County, North Carolina to Franklin County, Georgia in early January 1812. He purchased his first land in Franklin County on Jan 17, 1812 and more on Mar 10, 1812. John George lived with his family in north-eastern Georgia until about 1826, when he moved to western Georgia, near the Alabama state line. He first settled in Campbell County (or that portion of Carroll County, created from Creek Indian land in 1826, that became Campbell County in 1828) before moving southward, about 1828 - 1829 to neighboring Carroll County. In Carroll County, he settled near Whitesburg and built a grist mill later known as the Springer Mill. John George died in Carroll Co, GA in ca 1836 " - and was buried on a high ridge overlooking Snakes Creek, and his is a lone grave by the side of a settlement road," according to one source. The last record of his wife Margareth is in the 1860 Carroll County census, which shows her living, at age 80 years, with her youngest child Mary ADERHOLD-HANNER (b. 1824GA), wife of Thomas HANNER, Sr., a 47 year old carpenter/mechanic, and their ten children.

Jacob ADERHOLDT became a prosperous farmer and land owner. He died on May 01, 1853 at the age of sixty seven. Sarah(?) Elizabeth, his wife, died three years later, on Aug 10, 1856. They were both buried in the old Beaver Dam Lutheran Church Cemetery, about eight miles east of Cherryville, in Gaston, Co, NC. John Conrad, died in Franklin Co, GA, in the same year as Jacob, 1853.

Although Jacob did not leave North Carolina, three of his sons, Frederick William, Sr., John Abraham "Abram", Jacob Israel, and one daughter Elizabeth "Becky" and her husband James "Jimmy" PRIVIT, follow the pioneer trail of their two uncles, John Conrad and John George, to the south-west, all settling in the early 1840s near the modern city of Jacksonville, Alabama. This, more or less, split the descendants of Jacob and Sarah(?) Elizabeth ADERHOLDT into two groups, which the author refers to as the "North Carolina Clan" and the "Alabama Clan." Even today, there are several families of Jacob's descendants living in or near the original settlement sites in Lincoln/Gaston County, North Carolina and Calhoun County, Alabama.

Springville, Mar. 26, 1879

Mr. E. A. Aderholt
Oxford, Ala.

Dear Brother, I write these lines to let you all know that our Father died Monday evening and was buried here yesterday. He was taken about a week before he died with a head cold and never got over it. He gradually went down until about 5 o'clock Monday evening when he breathed his last. He has left his family in needy circumstances particular his three?? little orphan grand children. He died quietly and easy, he was unconscious for about 10 hours before he died. The rest of our people are well at present, write to and let me know how you are all getting along and how Mary is doing. Times are very dull at present. Give my love and respect to all the family.
