Riverview Cemetery

The Riverview cemetery is located 1 1/2 miles from Loudon, Tennessee, on Fork Creek Road. The first interment was made around 1840, while the city of Loudon was a trading post. Several Cherokee Indians are supposed to be buried here. During the Civil War soldiers of both Confederate and Union Armies were buried in this Cemetery. In 1928 it was incorporated as the Riverside Cemetery, and is one of the most beautiful locations anywhere overlooking the Tennessee River. There are 295 unmarked graves. Copied by Richard Flohr, Lenoir City, Tenn. Route 2, Oct 11, 1937.
