

Marriages

And Club Activities

The Dallas Morning News

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1941

PAGE SEVENTEEN

Clairine Compton Becomes Bride of C. M. Thompson Jr.

The marriage of Miss Clairine Valerie Compton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Compton, and Charles Malcolm Thompson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Malcolm Thompson, took place Thursday evening at the Compton home, 4900 Lakeside Drive. The Rev. John Donaho officiated.

The ceremony was performed before an altar of huckleberry foliage which formed a background for groupings of Easter lilies, white stock and tiers of white tapers. Marking the bridal aisle were white tapers and green garlands. Huge arrangements of Easter lilies and white stock were placed in the other rooms of the house.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of crisp faille in a deep cream shade. The sweetheart neckline was cleverly bound in scroll design which extended down the front of the fitted bodice to form a low-dipped waistline in the back. The crushed faille banding also finished the three-quarter length sleeves and the full skirt fell into a wide circular train. The filmy illusion veil that fell from a latticed tiara of seed pearl extended beyond her train. Completing her costume was a modernistic bouquet of white orchids and orange blossoms.

Attendants Wear Pink.

Miss Helen Marie Thompson, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and Mrs. Ted Knecht was matron of honor. The nieces of the bride, Wayne Lemay Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Crawford III; Mary Ann Warner and Zelva Compton Warner, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Warner of Minneapolis, were flower girls.

Miss Thompson and Mrs. Knecht wore picturesque gowns of angel pink faille designed on the same lines as the bridal gown. They also wore French hats of pink faille, whose huge clusters of French flowers accented the colors of their bouquets of pink roses and blue delphinium. The hats' sheer veiling terminated in crisp bows at the back. The flower girls were dressed in shell pink and blue tulle and wore tiny flower garlands in their hair.

and was graduated at SMU. He is a Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity member.

Among the out-of-town guests were the sister of the bride, Mrs. W. J. Warner of Minneapolis, and her three daughters, Sally Compton Warner, Mary Ann Warner and Zelva Compton Warner, who came from Florida for the wedding.

Boude Storey P. T. A. Has Morning Coffee After Business Meet

A morning coffee in honor of past presidents, life members and mothers of low seventh grade pupils was given Thursday at the school by members of the Boude Storey Parent-Teacher Association. The coffee was held after a short business meeting.

The table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with a large crystal bowl containing jonquills and irises, carrying out the P. T. A. color scheme of blue and gold. Blue and gold tapers burned in crystal holders. Mrs. James T. Whittlesey conducted the candle-lighting ceremony honoring the founders of parent-teacher work. Mrs. J. M. Bryan served the cake and Mrs. Clara C. Kerr presided at the coffee service. Music was given by the Boude Storey band, under direction of Harry T. Barton. Mrs. A. E. Rainwater and Mrs. F. T. Whiteside were in charge of all arrangements.

The Boude Storey association was founded in 1933. The past presidents are as follows: Mrs. E. D. Hurt, Mrs. H. M. Clark, Mrs. R. F. Parratt, Mrs. Duke Kimbrough, Mrs. W. W. Morrison, Mrs. J. W. Wellman, Mrs. J. M. Bryan and Mrs. R. H. Caldwell. Honorary life members are Mrs. E. D. Hurt, Mrs. H. M. Clark, Mrs. R. F. Parratt, Mrs. M. T. Bichell, Mrs. Raymond Slack, Mrs. W. B. Johnson and James T. Whittlesey.

Review of Wedding Gowns to Be Held

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1941

their hair.

Miss Sarah Alla Hawley sang before the service, accompanied by Mrs. Ella Pharr Blankenship, and other wedding music was given by Lanham Deal, violinist, and Mrs. W. L. Crawford III.

William Hemphill attended Mr. Thompson as best man and John Storey, Boude Storey, Leon Russ Jr., Ed McLaughlin, David Noel, Ted Knecht and Rhoades Alderson of San Antonio were groomsmen.

At the reception that followed the ceremony an Italian lace cloth covered the table which was ornamented with silver appointments and a bouquet of Easter lilies, white stock and orange blossoms.

Travels in Beige Ensemble

As the couple left on a wedding trip Mrs. Thompson wore an ensemble of Balboa beige. The dress was of linen mesh and the beige tweed coat had a tuxedo collar of lynx. Her hat was a draped beige wool turban that extended into a halo crown and her shoes and bag were of heartbeat red. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will live at Parkchester Apartments.

Mrs. Thompson was graduated from Highland Park High School and attended Chevy Chase in Washington, D.C., and Finch in New York. She was introduced last November at the Idlewild and was entertained extensively this season.

Mr. Thompson attended A. & M.

For Neoteric Group

GARLAND, Texas, Feb. 27.—A Wedding Gown Review will be shown for the first time in Garland when the Neoteric Study Club will feature the entertainment in the high school auditorium Friday night. The gowns will be modeled in groups of five-year periods, and popular songs of those years will be played and sung.

Mrs. H. R. Bisby, president of the club, has announced the following committees: Costume, Mrs. S. R. Weir, J. H. White and R. L. Goodson; arrangements, Mrs. Fletcher White, Mrs. Gordon Holford, Mrs. T. T. Pickett; program, Mrs. Guy Bullock and Mrs. F. L. Stainback; refreshment, Mrs. Ed Castle, Mrs. Harry Alexander, Mrs. G. R. Scott; publicity, Mrs. W. W. White, Mrs. K. K. Gleason, and ticket sales, Mrs. Lou Yarborough and Mrs. W. C. Warren. Other members of the club are Mrs. W. C. Daugherty and Mrs. John T. Wade.

Proceeds from the show will go to purchase a civic gift, Mrs. Bisby announced. The bride's table will be one of the features of the decorations and refreshments will be served following the program.

Nellie Day Trigg Garden Club Meets

The Nellye Day Trigg Garden Club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. R. T. Shiels, 602 Brookside.

Browning Study Club Has Musical Program

Members. and guests. of the